

AI Internship Information

The AI internship provides practical training in Python, machine learning and data science. The internship duration is three months. Students learn through practical tasks and projects. Students should have basic knowledge of Python programming and should be interested in artificial intelligence and machine learning. The internship includes projects related to data analysis, machine learning and AI applications. Students receive guidance from mentors and complete tasks based on the topics covered during the internship.